Thanksgiving Day Services Tomorrow

A union Thanksgiving service in which the ministers of all the local Protestant churches will take part will be held at the South church Thursday morning at 9:00. The combined choirs of the churches will furnish the music.

The sermon will be offered by Rev. John S. Moses, rector of Christ church; Rev. Frank E. Dunn will lead the responsive reading, Rev. Elton E. Smith the prayers, Rev. Frederick B. Noss, host pastor, will give the announcements, Rev. Arnold Kenseth will read the scripture lesson and Rev. Donald H. Savage the prayers, and Rev. A. Graham Baldwin will give the benediction.

The music will be rendered by the choirs with John D. Newall of Christ church and Ivar Sjostrom of the Free church as organists. Mrs. Mervin E. Stevens will be soloist, and Weston L. Brannen of the South church will direct the service music.

The music will be: Prelude, Adagio from Symphony II (Widor); hymn, "Come, ye thankful people, come"; anthem; Prayer of Thanksgiving (Netherlands folk song); offertory, Song of Gladness (Dvorak); hymn, "Now thank we all our God"; hymn, "Praise to God, immortal praise"; and postlude, "Nun danket alle Gott" (Karg-Elert).

Map Church Canvass Plans For December 5

At the united church canvass committee meeting, at the Free church Sunday afternoon with Rev. Frank E. Dunn, chairman, presiding, final arrangements were made for the joint publicity underlying the campaigns of the various churches composing the Andover Council to enlist the financial support of all their members for the year 1944.

William S. Hughes reported on the arrangements for newspaper advertising, and Stanley F. Swanton, on the willingness of the radio station to run spot announcements during the days immediately preceding the every-member canvass on December 5. Lathrop Merrick is securing a large number of posters for display in store windows and on bulletin boards.

Dinner will be served at many of the churches that Sunday noon for the canvassers, who will proceed to make their calls to the accompaniment of ringing church bells at 2:00.

At the Free church, the canvass is under the general supervision of Frank A. Buttrick, chairman, Norman K. MacLeish, and Stanley F.

One-Day Waste Paper Drive Sunday

Fleet of 30 Trucks
Canvass Every Street

This coming Sunday will be "Waste Paper Day" in Andover. Householders are asked to go through their attics and cellars this week in preparation for the one-day drive, when a fleet of over 30 trucks will cover every street in town.

The householders are asked to get the bundles on the curb by 9:00. Newspapers are to be securely tied in bundles 15 inches high, and magazines, in bundles separate from the newspapers, in 50 pound bundles. Brown kraft paper, paper bags and cartons should be smoothed, flattened and tied, also in separate bundles. If anyone has corrugated paper, it will be especially welcome.

High and Junior high school boys will go along with the trucks and assist the householders in getting the waste paper out.

Charles T. Gilliard, superintendent of the Board of Public Works, is assembling the trucks and drivers, all local men donating their time to the endeavor. John M. Erving, who has had much experience in salvage affairs, will be in charge at the main dump, and will supervise the packing of the waste paper on its way to be re-processed.

The salvage committee headed by Harry I. Emmons anticipates an enormous collection in Andover's

Punchard Underdog Against Johnson

Committee Elects Guidance Leader

Night Fireman Named At Special Meeting Saturday

At a special meeting Saturday noon, the local school committee elected Bernard M. Kellmurray of Weymouth to be director of guidance in the public schools and teacher of English at Punchard high school. The position was formerly held by Edward C. Manning of Wilmington, who resigned several weeks ago to enter service.

At a special meeting held October 25, the committee had elected Arthur J. Dows of Dennis to the position of guidance director. Because of a number of circumstances, an especially attractive offer from his present town being one of them, Mr. Dows has decided not to accept the local position.

Mr. Kellmurray was elected at a salary of $2200 as the unanimous choice of the teachers sub-committee. He was graduated in 1928 from the Free academy in Utica, N. Y., where he later taught Spanish. He received his A. B. and A. M. degrees from Yale in 1932 and 1941. He was appointed an English in-

Punchard's football team, steadily improving all season and especially formidable in its recent Methuen encounter, comes up against its strongest opponent of the year when it plays Johnson high Thursday morning at 10 in the Memorial stadium, Lawrence.

Punchard will be at a decided disadvantage because of a torn knee cartilage which has sidelined George Collins, one of its best players, for the rest of the season. Tony Babicki, regular right tackle hurt in an automobile accident a few weeks ago, is scheduled to start the game, but his lasting ability is doubtful.

Coach Fred Reil has announced his probable starting lineup as follows: le, Chester Jenkins; lt, Durwood Moody; lg, John McGrath; c, Bill Morgan; rg, Manny Gigis; rt, Tony Babicki; re, Jack Murnane; qb, Al Johnson; lhb, George Craig; rlb, Alex Gordon or Fred McCol-lum; and fb, Billy West.

The game was scheduled for the Memorial stadium by Johnson officials, it being Johnson's home game this year, since Lawrence high is playing at Lowell on the holiday morning, Johnson has come up with a powerhouse eleven this year, centered around Co-Captain Ray Sullivan, whom Bob Coyne featured Tuesday in a newspaper cartoon as one of the state's leading scholastic backs.

Johnson, which lost only one man from last year's squad, has piled

Sgt. Marshall Miller In Full Charge of "Shimmy Beach", Panama—Is Lifeguard, Director, Salesman and Policeman

HEADQUARTERS, PANAMA CANAL DEPT., Nov. 25—Shimmy Beach—the Coast Artillery Command's Coney Island on the Atlantic here—is a monument to the versatility and industry of a lone "Jungle Mudder", Sgt. Marshall W. Miller, of Andover, Mass.

Single handed, the New Englander has reclaimed the once deserted, grass covered surf from a sorespot on the horizon to what is now believed to be the most popular bathing place in the Republic of Panama.

Previously an uninviting stretch of land, Shimmy Beach attracted no one during the week, and drew a maximum of six on sweltering weekends.

Transformed into a modern swimming mecca, the surf lures thousands of soldiers, sailors and civilians from the most remote points of the Caribbean Defense Command many of them spurning local bathing facilities for those available at Col. William H. Sweet's Coast Artillery organization.

All of this wonder was wrought solely by Sgt. Miller, a veteran of three years in the Caribbean theater, who was commissioned to breathe life into the beach by Colonel Sweet a year and a half ago.

The GI jack of all trades is Shimmy Beach's manager, its only lifeguard, its one swimming instructor, its caretaker, its bathhouse director, its soda pop dispenser, its sub post exchange clerk, its police force, and its sports equipment check man.

In addition, the Jungle Mudder—as members of the Coast Artillery Command here are known—constructed the branch PX where bathers may purchase soft drinks, candy, cigarettes, etc., and built the 20 by 20 foot raft anchored at the 11

BY LEFF

High on a Tunisian cliff a Free French soldier lay wounded. A litter squad started up. Enemy bullets spat against the cliff. The squad went on. In a whining hail of lead they brought their ally down. For that exploit Staff Sergeant Roy L. Bates of Fairfield, Ill., and Privates Hobert Branscum of Delta, Ky., Anthony P. Coll of Johnstown, Pa., and William B. Griffin of Sylvestre, Texas, won Silver Stars. They deserve your War Bond backing.

Make First Arrests In Boston Raid

Arrest of Five Alleged Gamblers by Local Police Opens Biggest Gambling Cleanup In State's History

Andover police furnished the "kickoff" yesterday to the mass arrest of Boston racketeers by officers of the Mass. District Commission. After a morning of detailed investigation, the local police, headed personally by Chief George A. Dane, arrested five men on the North Reading road. As soon as the men had been arrested, a mass raid resulting in about 60 arrests began in Boston, and the biggest cleanup in the history of the state was underway.

It all began Monday, when Atty. Gen. Robert T. Bushnell, incidentally a former Andover man, contacted the chief and asked his cooperation in the raid. Chief Dane went to Boston at 9:30 Tuesday morning, and assisted in watching an establishment owned by one Paddy Coleman, alleged to be Boston's leading gambler.

Chief Dane was outside Coleman's establishment, with State and M. D. C. officers, from 11:35 to 12:15. At that time, they observed a group of men enter a car and head north, presumably destined for Rockingham Park.

Meanwhile, the chief had notified the Andover officers to be out by the bypass ready to stop the car. His own car passed the gambler's vehicle on the way from Boston, and pulled up outside the Howard Johnson restaurant, where Sgt. William R. Hickey and Officers David Gillespie and James Lynch were already waiting.

The gamblers' car was stopped when it came along, and four men were arrested on warrants made out long before. Of the four, State Officer Ryan took one, John H. Good of Dorchester, back to Boston in his car, the local police brought John A. Gardner and John J. Dillon of Boston to M. D. C. headquarters in Boston, and Chief Dane took Edward L. McCarthy of Boston in his car. The charge was conspiracy.

As soon as word was flashed to the M. D. C. of the arrests in Andover, the mass raids began in Boston. Chief Dane remained in Boston until 7:00 last night, having his testimony transcribed in full. He will probably also be called on to testify when the cases are brought into court.

One of the alleged gamblers, John Good, when searched was found to have 40 TT (truck) gasoline coupons, worth five gallons each, on his person. He was using only a sticker for A gasoline on his windshield, and explained to police that he used only his A gas for his trips to Rockingham. He was questioned closely on this point of his story.

It is believed that less than a dozen men in the commonwealth were "in" on the raid, so that it was completely successful. Early last night, 30 men had been arrested, and more were being brought in "in droves" according to Chief Dane. All are being held in $2,000 bonds each.

Local Girl Married In North Africa

Lt. Helen M. Beer, believed to be the first local girl to marry overseas in the present war, was united in marriage in picturesque surroundings October 31 in North Africa to First Lt. Gilson Vanier. The wedding was announced this week by Lt. Beer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Beer of 3 Summer street.

The wedding ceremony took place at six o'clock on a fall evening in a little French village church somewhere in North Africa. The bride was given in marriage by her commanding officer, Major Stewart. Lt. Barbara Maxwell served as maid of honor.

The bride and Lt. Maxwell wore their olive drab uniform dresses and overseas caps. The bride had a corsage of white roses, and her maid of honor one of yellow roses. The double ring ceremony was used, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Fr. Boland. One of the enlisted men sang two solos at the ceremony.

According to Mrs. Vanier's account of the wedding in a letter to her parents, "we then went up to Gilly's camp, and they had a small orchestra, wedding cake and all the fixings. It couldn't have been nicer if we had been in the U. S. A. Our wedding trip was to a spot 200 miles from here.

"We had our own car, and we stopped at some of the oldest cities in North Africa, among them the Holy City of Islam. It rests right in a valley with mountains all around.

There were palm trees and flowers blooming in the garden. We spent five days there before reporting back on duty."

The bride is a graduate of Boston university's Sargent college, where she took her B.S. in physical education in May, 1942. She had an outstanding career there, being president and vice-president of her class and president of the honor auxiliary during her school years. She is a physiotherapist in the Army medical corps, and has been overseas since early in the Afro-European campaign.

The two family house on Hall Avenue, Ballardvale, owned by Walter H. and Sophye F. Simon, has been sold to Bart F. Smalley. The sale was made through the W. Shirley Barnard real estate and insurance agency.

WITH THE BOYS IN SERVICE

AT EASE!

Servicemen's Fund association has been getting a lot of mail about their Christmas boxes lately. One of the boys in service writes as follows: "That your Christmas package was well received goes without saying, but there is something else: with that present comes the spirit of the New England town, the realization that those at home are behind our ventures and want to help and do help. But even more than that, there are the friendly hopes and the pat on the back and the eyes that watch . . . You have done this for us wherever we are; the voices of home, the elms on Main street, the town hall, the Academy, and all the other places that mean so much to us. And for this, believe me, we are grateful, for our thoughts are all of home and the day when we can come back."

Lt. C. H. Weeks, stationed with the field artillery at Camp Livingston, La., is spending a fifteen-day furlough with his parents, the Clarence Weeks' of Chestnut street.

Pvt. George Sweeney is now with an anti-aircraft artillery battery at Camp Hulen, Tex.

Lt. Frank Morgan has been out in "the desert" for a year and a half now—at present, at Camp Laguna, Arizona.

Sgt. Homer Garceau (yep, sergeant now), formerly of Camp Gordon and Fort Jackson, has been transferred to Camp Crowder, Mo.

Sgt. Tom Eldred of Washington avenue, formerly sweltering in the California desert, is now wiping sweat and rain from his brow in Military Secret, a place we've heard of before.

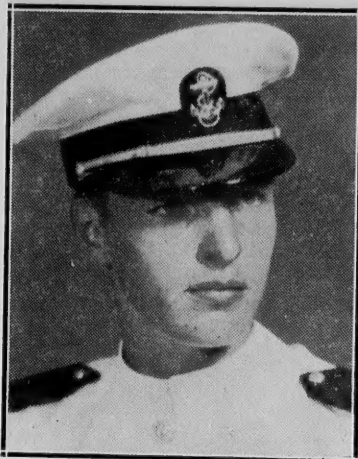

Amie Proulx, water-tender first class in the SeaBees, is getting the Townsman on an island in the Southwest Pacific where "Things are getting quieter". Amie reports the weather pretty hot down there, and nothing at all like New England.

Joe O'Brien, now a corporal in an M. P. outfit overseas, writes that he hasn't had a chance to see the "famous sights" where he is, but he likes the country (unspecified) and its friendly people very much. Joe reports that the prevalence of bicycle riding at his base does away with the parking ticket activities that would naturally interest a former copper.

F 2c Bobby Burnham, the old Town-Team fireballer, is now at the N. T. S. at Noroton Heights, Conn.

Lt. (jg) Dick Webb, formerly at the Webb school in Claremont, Calif., is aboard a Naval vessel in Pacific waters.

George Morris of Beacon street, West Andover, and more recently of Lawrence, enlisted in the Navy with the rating of carpenter's mate 3c in September, and is now located at the Naval base at Staten Island, N. Y.

Naval Aviation Cadet Frank R. Strong, son of the Carlton Strongs of Stonehedge road, is now taking primary flight training at the Naval air station at Peru, Ind., after graduating from Chapel Hill a few weeks ago. Frank, who was a member of the Class of 1942 at Phillips Academy, will be ready for his gold wings and Navy ensign's commission after six months of primary and advanced flying training.

Pvt. Howie Proctor is with a signal battalion at Drew Field, Fla., now.

Cox. Johnny Dwyer, late of Lee Field, Fla., has been transferred to Beaufort, So. Car.

Radioman 3c Herbie Muller, graduated from radio school in Atlantic City not long ago, is now at Ponce de Leon Inlet Station, New Smyrna Beach, Fla. (quite a title, that.)

A. S. Norman Eaton, recently at the AAF center in Nashville, Tenn., has been transferred to Maxwell Field.

Pvt. Gardner Shaw of Ballardvale, formerly at Camp Ellis, Illinois, is now located at the new Army hospital at Galesburg in the same state.

Congrats to Johnny Powell of Camp Robinson, Ark. (he's in the medical detachment of one of Robinson's infantry regiments), just upped from corporal to sergeant. He writes us that it seems as if you just finish sewing on one set of stripes when along comes someone with another bunch . . . Johnny reports that he's sleeping under two blankets in the woods with the temperature hovering around 28 degrees. Brrrr!!

And Eddie Dole, S1c, who's on fleet duty in the Pacific, sends us an awfully nice letter about the Townsman. As he describes it, a fellow from California came over one day while he was reading it and told him it had been two years since he'd seen any home-town weekly. Since then, several other fellows come around regularly for a look at the Townsman, and Eddie says he has to manage his paper like a library, keeping track of the boys as they take it out and turn it back in. So, best regards to Eddie and his shipmates.

And when Larry Shields, Naval Lt.-com. in the Pacific, got his package, he found in it a record from none other than Dr. Fuess.

Lt. Charlie Martin's now at Langley Field, Va.

Lt. Mary O'Brien, ANC, formerly at Lovell hospital, Fort Devens, is now on duty at Fort Banks, Winthrop.

Just a reminder to our readers, who often give us a serviceman's change of address and find it still unchanged a week or so later. The volume of such changes has increased tremendously; every week the number runs to at least 50 changes, sometimes as high as 70. In order to keep our chins above water, we now make all address changes on Saturday afternoon to be in effect the following Thursday; therefore, changes given us on Monday or Tuesday, say, will go into effect, not the same week, but the week following.

Pfc Jim Stevens, son of the Clinton H. Stevens' of Morton street, has graduated from the aircraft mechanics school at Seymour Johnson Field, and is now taking a 30-day course at the Douglas Aircraft factory school at Long Beach, Calif. His brother Dick is still on this side of the country, pursuing his AAF studies at Presbyterian college in South Carolina.

We hear that, way off in the Fiji Islands or somewhere Bill Deyermund of Shawsheen road has been upped to staff sergeant. Bill's supply sergeant in a former National Guard outfit from Lawrence.

Pfc Dick Christison of Burnham road is now training with the mountain troops at Camp Hale, Colo.

Home on a 15-day furlough with his folks, Police Sgt. and Mrs. W. R. Hickey of Walnut avenue, is Lt. Ray Hickey. Ray, now a silver bar lieutenant, is stationed in Nebraska.

Pvt. Jack Ashburn comes front and center to report that he was "knocked for a loop" when he came off the field, one Tuesday night, and had his sergeant hand over a Christmas present from the Fund association. Jack found a lot of stuff in the package that he was just out of, handkerchiefs, shaving cream and tooth paste among them, so that the PX lost a little of his business. His friends think Andover's a great town, too.

From Coleman Field, Tex., comes a letter from A. C. Paul Medolo saying that he also enjoyed the package, particularly the records.

And Doug Dunbar, son of the Douglas Dunbars of the Hill, reports from Hobart College (V-12) that his tops any other home-town packages he's seen. And just the right stuff was in it, he adds.

Still regarding Christmas packages, the Fund association has heard that John Hewitt, naval hospital apprentice at Corpus Christie, Tex., passed the candy from his Christmas box around among the wounded overseas veterans confined there, making a good deed a lot better.

Bill Vannett of the SeaBees, now at Port Huemene, Calif., has returned from four weeks at an island 100 miles off the Pacific coast, where he got special training.

Pvt. Jim Cahill is now with the coast artillery at Orlando, Fla.

Fort Des Moines, famous WAC training center, had a distinctly Andover air this week when Helen Smith, Anna Cronin and Mildred Buck, all recent enlistees who have been sent to Iowa for basic training, ran into each other for the first time out there.

They tell us that Hughie Davey, now a sergeant in the R.C.A.F., has a new station—Malton, in Ontario.

Ballardvale

George Duke of the Navy now has a New York address, as do Harry Wrigley and his brother Don.

Andy Townsend of the CG is in Florida nowadays.

Lt. Jack Moran is in Montana now as much as he is anywhere; he's an active airman and sure gets around.

Pvt. Sam Lowry, son of Mrs. Jane Lowry of Andover street, is now in the ski troops at Camp Hale, Colo. Sam reports it's pretty cold getting up at 5 a. m. in the Rocky mountains. He saw Joe Louis box an exhibition up at Hale, but the air was so rarefied that Joe was pretty well tucked out after a few rounds.

Carter's Corner

Bob Stocks, stationed in England, has been promoted to sergeant. Bobby, who recently had a five-day furlough in Scotland, gets his Townsman regularly and enjoys it, they tell us.

Congrats to Tim Ryan, an instructor at West Point, on his promotion to lieutenant colonel. Tim, now one of Andover's highest-ranking servicemen, is a regular Army man, and is one of three sons of Mrs. Mary Ryan of Boston road in the service.

Another Carter's Corner promotion is that of Eddie Gaudet, formerly a staff sergeant, who has added another stripe as a technical sgt.

Vern Porter, cook 2c in the merchant marine, is visiting at the Joseph Gallants', where his wife resides.

The Servicemen's Page is prepared by the Townsman editors with the active assistance of the Servicemen's Fund Association.

The Townsman is sent each week, free of charge, to every local serviceman by the Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance Company. We shall appreciate receiving up-to-the-minute addresses for all Andover men and women in service, in order that our mailing list may be kept accurate.

P. A. Thanksgiving Service Broadcast

The regular Thanksgiving Day service at Phillips Academy will go on the air over Station WLAU Thursday night at 8. The broadcast will originate in the Cochran chapel on the Academy campus. The public is invited to attend this service. Those planning to be present are urged to note that the service itself will start at 7:55, after which time, due to the fact that the service is being broadcast, no one will be admitted to the chapel.

The order of service is as follow: Prelude, Fantasia on "Now thank we all our God"—Barner; hymn—"Now thank we all our God"; call to worship; invocation and Lord's Prayer; Doxology; reading of the Thanksgiving Proclamation; Netherlands folksong—"We gather together to ask the Lord's Blessing"; Scripture reading; anthem—"thanks be to God"; prayer; hymn—"Our God our help in ages past"; benediction; postlude on the Norwegian chorale, "Now Praise the Lord, My Soul"—Lindeman.

State Guard Fires On Wakefield Range

The Andover company of the State Guard spent last Sunday on the range at Camp Curtis Guild, Wakefield. The company left the playstead at 10 in a motor convoy, and returned for dismissal at 4:00 p. m.

At the range the men fired Thompson submachine guns, shot guns, and revolvers at stationary and bobbing targets, the latter being exposed for a limited period of time.

There will be no session of Lieutenant K. S. Minard's rifle course this Wednesday evening, but one will be held that night next week.

Idle moments are spent by Miller eclipsing tank records as a member of Colonel Sweet's swimming team. He has won five medals in Panama Canal Department meets.

Harrowed once a week to keep the sand pure, the improved beach has been enlarged to a length of more than 400 yards, and a width exceeding 70 feet.

Complete bathhouse facilities are available for men and women. The beach boasts sixteen circular benches once used by map plotters around a command post table, a volley ball court, parallel bars, horizontal bars, high jump, broad jump and rope climbing equipment—all normally employed in commando training.

(Ed. Note—Sgt. Miller has lived in Andover since childhood, and, before entering service, resided with his mother, Mrs. Mabel Miller, at 101 Highland road. He went through the public schools and Punchard, and enlisted in the regular Army in peacetime. He has been in Panama for several years now.)

Use it wisely

IN YOUR HOME

Gas, the American homemaker's favorite cooking fuel, is helping Uncle Sam to stave the Axis, too. Because gas is vital to the war effort, and because more fuel, manpower and transportation, used in making gas, are needed for war production, it should be conserved in the home wherever possible.

COOPERATE IN THE

NATIONAL VOLUNTARY CONSERVATION PROGRAM

The War Production Board asks every homemaker to save gas by observing these rules: DON'T USE YOUR GAS RANGE OVEN TO HEAT YOUR KITCHEN . . . Use low blue flame for surface cooking . . . Use little water for vegetables — lower flame when liquids start boiling . . . Don't put hot foods in refrigerator . . . Use gas-heated water sparingly . . . Repair dripping faucets.

Punchard has added a new teacher to its staff in the person of Mr. Bernard Kellmurray who will take over Mr. Manning's duties as teacher of English, occupations and as head of the guidance department.

Fifteen students have signed up for the home nursing course to be given by Miss Westcott, the school nurse. They are Shirley Stevens, Marjorie Smart, Edythe Pullan, Carolyn Maylum, Dorothy Valentine, Marjorie Miller, Dorothy Foster, Jane Sparks, Evelyn Locke, Audrey Nowell, Elsie Rasmussen, Jean Court, Jean Fowler, Rowena Coon, and Jean Duguid.

Girl's basketball practice has begun for this season. As yet, no definite schedule has been arranged, since last year's turnout did not constitute a large enough number for a regular team. However, it is hoped that enough girls will come out this year. The regular practices will start after Thanksgiving on Wednesday afternoons.

The Mitchell twins, Linda and Lawrence, had an impromptu birthday celebration (their second) yesterday. Their parents are the Robert Mitchells of Tewksbury street.

BALLARDVALE

Among the Clubs

Many valuable prizes were given the high scorers at the whist party Monday evening in the community rooms. George Brewster and his committee put much time and effort into the affair, staged for the benefit of the work in the Bradley school conducted by the Vale P. T. A.

Mrs. Albert C. Curtis will entertain the members of the Women's Church Service League at her home today. The group will sponsor a Christmas sale in the vestry December 8, affording residents a chance to get their Christmas shopping done early.

Lecture Season Closes

The last in a series of six lectures in Ballardvale was held Tuesday evening in the library. Dirk H. van der Strucken of Phillips academy was the leader on the subject, "The Post-War World."

The meetings have been very well attended, and have proved interesting to the large group participating weekly in the discussions.

"Hayshaker Minstrels" Enjoyed

Large audiences enjoyed the performances by the "Hayshaker Minstrels" last week. The show, an all girl production, was sponsored by the Friendly Guild. Miss Margaret Hadley proved that she had trained the chorus to perfection, and the specialty and end numbers directed by Clyde Mears were well received.

Dancing followed the performances, and Leslie Hadley directed the sale of refreshments.

Personals

Mrs. Mina Kibbee of Clark road is confined to the Lawrence General hospital, following an operation.

The seven room house at 116 Marblehead Road, North Andover, owned by Mary J. Dunn has been sold to B. Thomas and Eva E. Vielgolaski, who have already taken up their residence. The sale was made through the W. Shirley Barnard real estate and insurance agency.

If Her Son Is In The Service She'll Want The Townsmen Every Week

All our Andover boys and girls in the service receive the Townsmen every week. And some of those boys and girls have sent money home so that their parents can enjoy the Townsmen, too.

JUNIOR HIGH NOTES

Today the students of Rooms
One and Three presented a Thanksgiving program arranged by Miss Stephan. The first item was the address of welcome by David Anderson. The Thanksgiving Proclamation was read by Ernest Avery, and Dorothy Christie read the 100th Psalm. Rosemary O'Connor, Betty
Jane O'Connor, Diane Nowell, Patricia McLay, Jane Noss, Pauline Mower, Barbara Keith, Shirley Northam, and Ann O'Rourke gave a recitation and a chorus of "Count
Your Blessings".

Richard Cheney and David Batchelder acted out a playlet, "Mr.
Brown's Thanksgiving" and Noelle
Blackmer, Sally Bergeron and Barbara Cairns gave a recitation, "Our Wonderful World." Janice Bowen presented a monologue, "A Modern Blessing." Ruth Mears, Beverly Arthur, Dorothy Christie, Ruth Ann
Chadwick, Jean Auchterlonie, Jack
Caswell, and Dana Bullen took part in a radio play, "The First Thanksgiving."

Robert Bachman recited "I Am

Thankful I Am An American", Sebastian Cavallaro recited "Thankful for the Flag", followed by the flag pledge, and the program closed with Ruth Ann Chadwick singing a hymn, "Father We Thank Thee."

The following received 100 percent in the recent library test: Sal-

PUT OUT CHIMNEY FIRES

The fire department was called out twice Monday to extinguish chimney fires, the ladder truck responding in both instances. No damage was caused by either blaze.

The first fire was rung in about 12:50 from the home of Alexander Petrie at 51 Bartlett street, and the second broke out Monday evening about 8:15 at the dairy farm of Russell Seamans on Boutwell road.

Next Year Will Be Different

NEXT year will be different. Not only the weather, and markets, and the needs of the country. Our jobs will be different, too.
Because next year we're going to do those jobs differently—and we hope better!

We, whose job is producing goods and services, have been making resolutions like this for years. And we've been keeping them! For in our kind of business, you either keep on finding better ways of doing things, or—you go backward! And if enough people do that, the thing we call progress bogs down.

That's why farmers keep on trying new seed, and fertilizers, and machines, and strains of stock. That's the reason industry carries on research—another name for a constant search for new knowledge and better ways to do things. Because most of us have been doing this for years, America has had the highest standard of living in the world. And it's the reason, too, that American production is doing so much today to bring victory.

After the war, America is going to need more than ever men with the courage and enterprise to invest time, money, and hard work in the search for better things. And if America's producers understand each other, and each other's problems, we'll be able to do these all-important jobs better. General Electric Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Editorials

Postscripts On Post-War Aviation

Last week's editorial, "Domestic Planning in Post-War Aviation" having occasioned a bit of comment, it may be worthwhile to dip into a few related angles of the subject.

For one thing, when the writer decried the failure of the government to manage domestic air traffic wisely and well, he was not overlooking the fact that the airlines have had stunning success in conducting their operations. Where the governing agencies have been able to produce nothing but chaos, the airlines have been able to produce everything from chaos.

New England, in particular, has made a signal contribution to the development of air transportation; to name names, Northeast Airlines has.

Northeast, a few years back, was "a little hedge-hopping outfit formed to popularize flying in New England and to provide quick transportation out of Boston to various places in Maine, Vermont, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and across to Canada", to quote Burnet Hershey's new book, "The Air Future."

It was already operating outside territorial United States, to Canada, and was one of the earliest to file application for authority to extend its lines overseas. The application was on file for four long years. Then war broke out. Along with every other United States airline, Northeast immediately offered its facilities to the Army Ferry Command.

Shortly thereafter came an urgent appeal from the Army; Northeast, in its application years earlier, had noted plans to extend its service into Newfoundland, building its own way stations along the route. Could it now start operations on that line, on which no construction had been done, practically on the drop of a hat? Northeast could and did; in fact, each of the landing strips on the pioneer route to Newfoundland was ready for the planes which landed there, not days, but hours after completion.

The trail did not stop there; it led further to Labrador, to Greenland, to Iceland, then clear across to Europe. And, though other lines are flying those routes now, it was Northeast that charted and established them. It was purely a Yankee undertaking; full credit for it should go to New England.

* * *

A second postscript on the domestic air question is the part the railroads are to play in the future airline system. Airlines already established and in operation, have during the past few weeks been crying "Wolf, Wolf" in the direction of the railroads.

It is the plaint of the airlines that the railroads are planning to enter the air field after the war on such a large scale that the airlines are bound to be squeezed out. Once the railroads establish a monopoly on air traffic, say the airlines, American rights of free enterprise will have been abrogated, and competition, the life-blood of any industry, will have been eliminated.

All of which sounds very much like cry-babying on the part of the airlines. Granted that the railroads are planning to enter the field of aviation, who can say whether they are willing — or able — to throw huge finances into the undertaking? In the present war, the railroads are busier than they have been in decades, and, at the same time, they have been unable to refurbish or increase their rolling stock. When the war is over, the country is going to have a very sick railroad system on its hands, and the railroads are going to have their hands full, in the next few years, merely in bringing their equipment up to date. That they should at the same time be financially ready to crowd out our wealthy airlines is hardly credible.

Furthermore, most of our airlines seem to be concentrating their plans on trans-ocean traffic after the war, and surely the railroads will think twice before taking any of their enterprises, hitherto continent-bound, across the seas. It might be argued that if the railroads are so ambitious and grasping, they might have entered the field of transportation by sea after the last war. Surely they never had a better opportunity than then to seize control of the seas, as well as the rails, for never did we have as small and impotent an American-owned merchant marine as we did in those days.

If the railroads are to enter the field of aviation after the war, more power to them. They have shown in this war a courage and enterprise that should carry our budding aviation industry a long way on the road to prosperity.

COMMUNICATIONS

To Friends of the Christmas Seal Sale:

By this time, 1516 of you know the Christmas Seal drive is on, but if your seals did not reach you, please call any member of the committee or buy seals at the booths.

Through the generous co-operation of Postmaster John McDonald, the booths as usual will be open at the postoffice and in Shawsheen, starting next Monday. Every cent spent on seals is a direct means of fighting tuberculosis, so please buy and use them!

The local committee consists of Mrs. Frank L. Brigham, Miss Mary E. Bancroft, Mrs. Mathew W. Colquhoun, Mrs. Clifford Dunnells, Mrs. Byron Hall, Miss Helen Eaton, Mrs. Edward C. Nichols, Mrs. William A. Trow, Mrs. Joseph Tavern, and Miss Anna W. Kuhn. Mrs. Cleveland Gilcrest did much of the typing, and many friends other than the committee have helped.

While our fighting forces are making victory come true on the battle fronts, let us help by buying seals to fight a disease at home that kills 60,000 Americans a year. Remember, "Christmas seals save human lives."

Gratefully,

LUCY ALLEN EATON

Andover Chairman

This Sober Town

That the younger generation is considerably more profound than we were at their age is attested by a sentence which hit our eye in the middle of a Philliplian column this week, to wit: "While John Q. Public may have great respect for Shakespeare, he prefers to relax watching Rita Hayworth."

There is a certain pithiness, as well as a species of fundamental truth in this happy grouping of words. We ourselves have great respect for the Philliplian and for Mr. Shakespeare, not to mention Miss Hayworth. Of the three, our greatest respect is for Miss Hayworth.

The universal admiration for a comely female is a matter that has found its way into literature before, even in the plays constructed by Shakespeare the aforesaid. What really baffles us, though, is that the Philliplian deems it "relaxing" to watch Rita Hayworth. We find it far from relaxing, in fact, downright disturbing.

Reading the Philliplian's lines brought to mind a dissertation by the irascible George Jean Nathan on the subject of musical comedies. He remarked that, however mightily the dramatic critics may smite in their New York columns, they go to see musical comedies on their nights off. John Mason Brown, we understand, the women's club favorite, rolls in the aisles at something like "Star and Garter," while Mae West is the favorite actress of Elliott Norton. Burns Mantle himself, we hear, is a bit of an ogler, and as for George Jean Nathan—well, he's a burleycue fan.

But it ain't relaxing!

* * *

Speaking of literary competitors, we note that the Saturday Evening Post is running a series called "Whatever Became of Them", or some title like that, describing the present whereabouts of people who have dropped from the limelight—Stokes, the evolution man, or Jessie Costello, or Al Capone.

We have been thinking that we could enlarge the list almost indefinitely. Movies, for instance: Martha Scott, Norma Shearer, Errol Flynn. Radio: Ward Wilson, Amos

CHILI IN DECEMBER

The Andover people who live in caves and don't know what's going on may be interested to hear about the square dance being planned by the ever-square Central P.T.A. The P.T.A. advises us that there will be many celebrities in the house, including Frank Sinatra, number one pin-up boy, and Chili Williams, number one pin-up girl.

With Frank and Chili on hand, the square dance should be THE social event of the season. Those who come to the Memorial gymnasium on December 2 will undoubtedly find out.

Plan Church Fair

The annual parish fair for the benefit of St. Augustine's church is to be held this year on Thursday and Friday, December 9 and 10. The fair will open that Thursday afternoon with a tea from 3:30 to 5:30, while Friday afternoon will be reserved for the children.

The fair will be open both evenings, with tables for white elephant and other articles. The drawing of the main prize will be held on the evening of December 10.

ENGAGED TO LIEUTENANT

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Thomas Burke of Tulsa, Oklahoma, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Frances, to Lieutenant John Parker Warden, Army Air Forces, son of Mrs. Charles Sumner Warden of Andover and the late Mr. Warden.

Miss Burke was graduated from Wellesley, class of 1942, where she was a member of Tau Zeta Epsilon.

Lieutenant Warden attended Phillips academy and graduated from Williams college, where he was a member of Psi Upsilon. He is now stationed at Eagle Pass, Texas.

Swanton. Committees at other churches are: South: Roy E. Hardy, chairman; Louis S. Finger, Edward A. Anderson, Thaxter Eaton; Christ church: Geoffrey Glendenning, chairman; William S. Hughes, and Alan F. Dunlop; West: Lathrop Merrick, chairman; Fred W. Doyle, and William Stewart.

The gift of $50 from the Church of Christ in Phillips academy was announced, the first received by the Andover Council of Churches. Quotas amounting to 2½ per cent of their current expense budgets have been suggested to the member churches for action at their forthcoming annual meeting.

More than one-half of its $850 budget for the 16 months period ending December 31, 1944, is for weekday and vacation schools of religious education, with smaller amounts for the committees on social action, youth work, union services, and the united church canvass. Officers of the Council are: Rev. Donald H. Savage, chairman; Thaxter Eaton, vice chairman; Fay H. Elliott, secretary; and Herbert H. Otis, treasurer.

Fund Committee Issues Statement On Xmas Gifts

The Servicemen's Fund committee has issued the following statement, of interest to Andover people, regarding the Christmas gifts recently sent by the committee to local service men and women.

"The Andover Servicemen's Fund association has sent out over 1200 Christmas packages to our boys and girls in the armed forces. Up to the present time, we have received over 600 replies letting us know that the packages has been received by their addressees.

"Of course we realized that October was rather early to receive a Christmas package, but your committee in many instances did not know just which ones were going overseas. Therefore they were all mailed early.

"We are led to believe that the gifts have been much appreciated. Of our 600 replies, most are very interesting, as many of the boys and girls have outlined in a general way just what they are doing. They are all very busy people; in fact, we judge that many of us back home do not realize the hard training they are going through and the number of hours they are devoting to their training daily. It is not unusual to have them write that they are working 12 to 16 hours a day, but they are invariably cheerful in their work and anxious to do their best to bring the war to a quick and successful end.

"When we realize the little we are forced to give up to try to make our boys and girls happy, we know that our contribution is indeed a small one. We strongly urge the home folks to buy bonds and stamps to the limit of their power, and to speed victory by any other means at their command.

"Many of the boys tell us, that, of all the Christmas boxes that have been received at their station, the box from Andover is the finest. They say that they are proud to let their buddies know that Andover, to them, is the absolute tops as a place to live."

up an impressive record this year. It has beaten Methuen, which outscored Punchard Armistice Day, and has lost only one game, to Central Catholic, Greater Lawrence champions. Last Saturday it had an easy time beating Cambridge Latin, a Class B team.

On the other hand, Punchard has shown vast improvement in its last few games, culminating in its fine exhibition of spirit against Methuen. There was a six-touchdown difference between the teams on paper, since the Phillips academy Jayvees had been beaten by Methuen, 19-0, and had in turn beaten Punchard by three touchdowns. Punchard, however, held Methuen to a 13-6 winning margin and out-fought their opponents all the way.

Officials for the game have been announced as: John Macdonald, Malden, referee; Joseph Bevins, Arlington, umpire; and Joseph Wellington, Medford, head linesman. The kickoff will be at 10 sharp tomorrow.

VERLEY'S IMITATION BUTTER FLAVOR!

First, have you tried it? No? Then here's the story: It is being used for cooking, baking, meats, vegetables, gravies, sauces, icings, and best of all, it's being used in margarine.

Here's what to do: Get a pound of margarine, (any brand), mix the color in thoroughly, add a teaspoonful of salt, another of cream, half a teaspoonful of sugar, then one and a half teaspoons of Verley's Butter Flavor, and mix thoroughly. You're going to be pleasantly surprised with the results—especially when you consider what you've saved in points.

If used in margarine alone, one bottle will last you for months. That's the new exhibition at the Addison Gallery of American Art, showing Friday through December 20.

The 300 photographs in this exhibition were recently taken in keeping with the Good Neighbor Policy established by the governments of the Western Hemisphere. They will help to satisfy one's curiosity about the neighbor to the South, who is not only our ally in this war but who, in the coming age of air travel, will play an increasing part in our lives after the war.

Although the emphasis is on modern buildings in Brazil, the old architecture has not been neglected, for the exhibition embraces a period of almost three centuries. The first section shows the colonial architecture, beautiful old buildings, early churches with their elaborate and gold-encrusted interiors and picturesque facendas. This is followed by sections of modern architecture, Government buildings and transportation buildings including a sea plane base and hangars.

Photographs of some of the pictures on exhibition may be had at the Addison Gallery.

ENGAGED TO LOCAL MAN

Mrs. O. Robert Alberts of 68 Green street, Fitchburg, has announced the engagement of her sister, Miss Alice Nancy Dobson, to Clinton H. Stevens, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton H. Stevens of 72 Morton street.

Miss Dobson is a member of the Junior class at Fitchburg State Teachers college and will be graduated in August. Mr. Stevens is a member of the Senior class at the same college.

Junior Red Cross Drive Nets $132

Miss Catherine M. Barrett, director of Junior Red Cross activities in Andover, has announced that the sum of $132.86 has been raised in this year's "Enrollment for Service" campaign. The sum compares very well with last year's subscription of $112.01.

Contributions by schools this year were: Punchard, $23.19; Junior high, $20.15; Stowe and Jackson schools, $51.79; Shawsheen, $13.62; Bradlee, $4.21; Indian Ridge, $5.00; West Center, $5.00; John Dove, $2.21; North, $3.86; St. Augustine's, $4.00; Marland school, $2.53. In all the schools there are 1732 pupils at the present time.

Enrollment fees amounting to $27.50 will be sent to the National Red Cross, and the balance turned over to Philip F. Ripley, treasurer of the Andover chapter, to be added to the Junior Red Cross service fund for the benefit of underprivileged pupils.

Fat Collection Benefits Local Canning Center

The neighborhood block leaders, under the direction of Mrs. M. Phillips Graham, are planning an intensive collection of fats in the three-day period from December 8 to 10. The drive is conducted at this time because local housewives will have extra amounts of fats and greases for salvage between Thanksgiving and Christmas.

It is planned that the neighborhood leaders will collect the fats from the homes in their neighborhoods, and turn the tins over to the zone leaders. A rendering company will collect them from the zone leaders.

The sum of five cents a pound for the fats will be paid by the rendering firm, and the money will be used next year for the benefit of the local canning center.

GRADUATES FROM AGGIES

Among a class of 36 graduating from the Essex County Agricultural school Tuesday were four Andover people, Marion Peatman, Herve Croteau, Priscilla Glines and Donald Hill.

Miss Glines read a student essay, "My three summers in horticulture", and was awarded one of the Bal-four prizes. Herve Croteau won one of the alumni association prizes for greatest improvement in academic work.

ON WELFARE COMMITTEE

Stafford A. Lindsay of Argyle street, long prominent in child welfare work for the American Legion, has been appointed by the Legion's executive committee to the national 12-man child welfare board. He was previously a member of the advisory committee, representing Massachusetts.

Mr. Lindsay leaves Friday to attend a committee conference in Indianapolis.

Ralph Richard and his sons, Elmer and Edward, spent Sunday with the Emanuel Gaudets of County road.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Smith of Maple avenue are spending the holidays with their son, Joseph H. Smith, in Katonah, N. Y.

New Youth Fellowship Plans December Dance

The young people's fellowship of the combined churches had its third meeting Sunday in Christ church. Since the first meeting, the group has doubled its membership.

Rev. Bernard T. Drew, pastor of the Lawrence Street Congregational church, Lawrence, spoke to the young people. Connie McCollum, chairman of the dance committee, reported that December 11 has been set as a definite date for the dance, and that it will be held in the Free church parish house.

Refreshments were served by a committee including Claudia Nicoll, chairman; Warren Knipe, Ruth Martin and Russell MacLeish.

The next meeting of the group will be held Sunday at 6:00.

LEGION AUXILIARY NOTES

The regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary will be held at 7:45 Thursday evening in the Legion rooms. Mrs. Alden Cook is to be the guest speaker. Following the meeting there will be a penny social.

Mrs. Rose Proulx has dressed a beautiful doll which will be on display in Miss Irma Beene's store window next week from Tuesday thru Saturday. The members are asked to bring in their returns on this doll at the meeting.

ABBOT ACADEMY NOTES

The public is cordially invited to attend the piano recital to be given by Kate Friskin Saturday night at 8:15 in Davis Hall.

Rev. James T. Cleland, D. D., of The Choate School, Wallingford, Conn., will preach at the vesper service Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

All except 18 of the students and over half of the faculty will be away from the school on Thanksgiving Day. Many are going to their homes, taking students who come to Abbot from a distance with them as their guests.

Sgt. Walker Lindsay Is Missing In Action

A telegram from the War Department received at the family home on Salem street Friday, informed Mr. and Mrs. Carl N. Lindsay that their son, Technical Sergeant K. Walker Lindsay, AAF, 21 years old, has been missing in action over Germany since November 5. The Lindsays were informed that further details would probably be available in two or three weeks.

Walker was crew chief on a Flying Fortress in action over the Reich for several months. He had been on flying duty overseas since the first of June. After three months of constant fighting, his squadron was ordered to a rest camp for a week, but shortly returned to action.

Exact details of the missions of the Andover boy's Flying Fortress are not known by his family, since, in writing home, he modestly underrated his work with the words "We've been having a lot of hot stuff lately—I guess you read about it in the papers."

Sgt. Walker volunteered for AAF service in April, 1942, and was stationed at Fort Devens, Keesler Field, Washington, Sioux City, S. D., and in Texas and Kansas before going overseas a few months ago.

About a week before he was reported to have landed overseas, he flew in a bomber over Andover, circling over his parents' home before, presumably, putting out to sea. It is known that he made the trans-ocean trip by air.

He studied at Phillips academy and Punchard high school, graduating from the latter school in 1940. Before entering service he attended aeronautical schools in Glendale and San Diego, Calif.

A brother, First Lt. John A. Lindsay of the Marines, is aboard an aircraft carrier now somewhere in Pacific waters.

POLICE BLOTTER

The theft of gasoline ration stamps entitling the bearer to 1800 gallons of gasoline was reported to local police last Friday. Helge Anderson, foreman of the State road crew which has its headquarters at the Shawsheen Motor Mart, told police officers that he had discovered the loss of the large stock of stamps from a desk, and that he believed the theft must have taken place between October 30 and November 15.

The desk was in a locked office, but neither the office door or the desk had been forced. Only four men, police were told, knew that the stamps were in the desk.

Missing were 362 coupons good for 1800 gallons of gas. All were marked with the legend "D.P.W." in red ink on the front. Other coupons worth 500 gallons of gas, and $2.90 in cash, were in the desk but were not taken.

MISS RAIDY ENGAGED

Thomas L. Raidy of 36 Elm street has announced the engagement of his daughter, Miss Flora E. Raidy, to Ronald M. Valentine, U.S.C.G., son of Mrs. Isabelle Valentine of 53 Red Spring road. The wedding will take place in December.

Miss Raidy, a graduate of Punchard high school and the McIntosh school, is employed at the Andover National Bank. Mr. Valentine was employed in the Tye Rubber company office before entering service.

TO ADDRESS NOVEMBER CLUB

William F. Stacey of Salem will be the speaker at the monthly meeting of the November club, to be held Monday afternoon at 3. Mr. Stacey is a collector of as well as an authority on Colonial wallpapers, and will have samples of his collection for the members to see.

WEST PARISH

Women's Union Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Women's Union of the West church will be held next Wednesday, with a covered dish luncheon at 1:00 sharp. Members are asked to inform any member of the committee what they are bringing to the meeting. The committee is: Mrs. William Corliss, Mrs. Donald Savage, Mrs. Charles Newton, Mrs. Harriet Lee, and Mrs. Charles Thomes. Those planning to attend are asked to bring small gifts for the Christmas tree party. An entertainment program is also being prepared.

Contribute For Orphans

Children attending the West church school Sunday brought their annual gifts of produce and canned goods for the Little Wanderers Home in Boston. A collection was also taken for the Home.

Dr. Parks Former Pastor

Dr. J. Edgar Parks, who resigned as president of Wheaton college Wednesday, will be remembered by many West Parish people as pastor of the West church, September, 1904, to November, 1907. He left the Parish to become pastor of the Second church in West Newton.

While in Andover, Dr. Parks married Miss Grace Burt, a sister of Mrs. Winthrop Boutwell of Shawsheen road. His resignation, in conformity with the college's retirement plan, will take effect at the close of the college year.

Herve Croteau of Beacon street and Donald Hill of Lowell street were members of the class graduated at Essex Aggies Tuesday evening.

Philip Thomes has returned to his home on Bailey road after enjoying a hunting trip in Bridgeton, Me.

Word has been received by the Jeremiah Twomeys of Haverhill street that their son Gerald is now stationed at the infantry school at Fort Benning, Ga. He is a graduate of Phillips academy, and was a sophomore at Amherst college at the time of his enlistment.

Mrs. Herbert Merrick of Lowell street left yesterday to spend several weeks with her sister, Mrs. Henry Collins in Tenaflly, N. J.

Many Baptist Church Events This Week

The Christian Endeavor will sponsor a play, "The Mad Hatters", presented by the Epworth League of the Parker St. Methodist church, Lawrence, in the Baptist church vestry tomorrow. Proceeds will go to the Fetter family.

The delegates to the Andover Youth Council held their first meeting Sunday at the Baptist church. Present were Emily McMurray and Agot Henrichsen of Abbot academy, Albert Burgess and David Baty of Phillips academy, Constance McCollum and Warren Knipe of Christ church, Mabel Broughton and Cynthia Pash of the West church, Vernie Livingston and Henry Albers of the Baptist church.

The next meeting will be held December 5 at 4:00. Churches not represented at the first meeting may send delegates. The nominating and program committees will report.

Sunday's church schedule will be: 9:30, church school; 10:45, morning service and sermon, "I Believe in the Fellowship of the Saints", with a special service of dedication of infants presented by their parents; 6:00, Christian Endeavor meets at Addison gallery for an illustrated lecture on religious art by Patrick Morgan.

The standing committee will meet at 7:30 next Wednesday.

Miss Peterson To Lead Grange In 1944 Season

Miss Ebba S. Peterson, active in Andover Grange 183, for several decades, was elected master for the coming year at its annual meeting last night in Grange hall. Miss Peterson, who has arranged many interesting programs as lecturer this past year, is also active in the State Grange as a member of its bird and conservation committee.

Harry A. Wright was elected to serve his nineteenth term as treasurer of Andover Grange. He has held that office since 1925, which is probably a record in local service groups.

Other officers elected were: overseer, Floyd Darby; steward, Miss Lois Rollins; assistant steward, Ernest Rollins; chaplain, Roland Trauschke, reelected; secretary, Mrs. Gladys Colmer; gatekeeper, Merwin Darby; Ceres, Mrs. Myrtle Darby; Pomona, Mrs. Margaret Baxter; Flora, Mrs. Frances Corliss; lady assistant steward, Mrs. Norma Larson; pianist, Mrs. Wilma Abbott; and executive committee-man for three years, Harry C. Dawson, retiring master.

The slate of officers is complete except for a lecturer, who will be chosen at the next meeting, December 7. The new leaders will be installed at the first meeting in January to hold office during 1944.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Scanlon of 11 Walnut avenue have announced the engagement of their daughter, Ann Barbara, to Lieutenant John W. Anderson, AAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burt M. Anderson of 81 Chestnut street. No date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Scanlon is a graduate of the Charles school, Boston, and is employed in the American Woolen company office. Lieutenant Anderson, an Army Air Force pilot, is stationed at Dale Mabry Field, Fla.

Chases Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary

Of interest to Andover residents was the golden wedding anniversary November 16 of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin N. Chase of 20 Vine street, Melrose. No formal celebration was held, owing to the absence of their son, Capt. Alston H. Chase, formerly of the Phillips academy faculty, serving with the armed forces in England. Their only other child, a daughter, Marion, teaches at Melrose high school.

Mr. Chase was born in Andover, and his sister, Miss Georgianna Chase, still resides here. Another sister, the late Miss Annie E. Chase, was well known in educational circles in Andover.

The couple received many cards and gifts of congratulation, as well as a cable from Capt. Chase. They have resided for most of their wedded life in the Boston area. Mr. Chase being a former employee of the Boston and Maine and Boston and Albany railroads.

PLAN HOME NURSING CLASS

A new home nursing class, under the sponsorship of the local Red Cross chapter, is due to open at the chapter house on Main street December 8 at 7:30. Local women are invited to make up their own groups from church, club or co-workers, and to learn together. They may enroll by telephoning the chapter house or Mrs. Charles Gregory. The need for those qualified in home nursing is especially great now because of the danger of epidemics in wartime.

GRADUATES FROM HARVARD

Donald B. Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Cole of 15 High street, has been graduated cum laude from Harvard college. Arthur, a graduate of Phillips academy, is now a Naval reserve midshipman taking a three-month training course at Northwestern university.
